Multicultural Munch: Lets eat!
From the Principals’ desk...

As we come to the end of a busy year, it is important to step back from the annual frustrations of yet another unfinished “to do” list, and count the reasons we have to feel proud and grateful. I am lucky and privileged to work with an outstanding staff and wider community that are so generous with their care, respect and support for our students and for each other.

Our school continues to work in partnership with families to include, improve, empower and create successful students who are connected and responsible members of their communities. There have been far too many individual achievements in 2014 to list here but here are my top 6 … for today –

Care: Our school of “heroes” came together to raise over $2000 to support our own little Jack Norman and his family as they bravely face the challenges of childhood cancer.

Excellence: 3 students (10% of our Year 4 and 40% of those who applied!) were selected to enter the Year 5/6 OC program for academic excellence in 2015. NAPLAN results continue to show good overall performance and growth for students in Years 3 and 5 at our school and those who moved on to Year 7 this year.

Recognition: Two of our students had their writing featured in a top selling Sydney newspaper, two students performed and won against 14 year olds in their section at the Sydney Eisteddfod and two Year 5 students were specifically invited by the first Australian Commissioner for Children’s Rights to MC at the launch of her first Report on the Rights of Children.

Partnerships: The Australian Opera and The Australian Theatre for Young People both chose to work with Marrickville West on major projects. These relationships have been ongoing and will continue next year.

The Arts: The Music program at Marrickville West is growing stronger with our children playing at the Opera House again this year, many more participating in additional piano or guitar lessons and the launch of our new band, School Feels. More to come in 2015.

Community: The parents and friends of Marrickville West created our first “Sculpture By the School” event that received rave reviews from artists and art appreciators far and wide. The Goldberg Machine created by all classes across the school featured at Sydney University’s annual arts festival.

I feel honoured to work with a parent community which is united in the support of our children and in a desire to advance our school. The feedback I have received through the various evaluation surveys and planning meetings in recent months has been overwhelmingly positive and generally very constructive. Our community is changing, but our focus on building strong, connected, creative and responsible children remains the same.

I continue to be impressed by the standard of learning and citizenship that our children display in classrooms and playgrounds every day. None of us is good at everything and we all make mistakes, but on the whole, the children of Marrickville West learn, care for each other and understand our world better than most. The achievements and personal development demonstrated by Year 6 have made me particularly proud this year.

Thank you and congratulations Marrickville West! I wish you a happy, peaceful holiday season and a safe return to school in 2015.

A song to the tune of “Lean on Me” was performed and presented to Mr Giblin by a parent on behalf 3/4G.

Such a creative and touching tribute… brought a tear to even Mr Giblin’s eye! Mr Giblin who completed his final university practicum at Marrickville West in 2011 and has been with us ever since, will be extending his early career experience in another school next year.

Mrs Barnett will finish her early teaching early next year after 30 years at Marrickville West. Mrs Barnett has taught multiple generations of families at our school and will be long remembered as an outstandingly kind and talented educator.

Sadly we also say goodbye to Mr Snelling who is moving to his new home on the NSW South Coast (after enjoying a family campervan trip around the country) and Mr Barrett who is moving to teach in Singapore – lucky International School students in Singapore!

These are all special teachers and all be dearly missed by the students, staff and families of Marrickville West. We wish them well on their future adventures.

Ms Ling’s End of Year Speech

"According to Ricky Martin, “Heroes represent the best of ourselves…
- A hero can be anyone from Gandhi to your classroom teacher, anyone who can show courage when faced with a problem. A hero is someone who is willing to help others in his or her best capacity.”

Last week we all dressed the part.
Super Hero Day was planned to raise money to support our own little hero, Jack and his family, as they battle the challenges of childhood cancer. Members of our school community raised over $2000 on that day and thousands more through other community donations and events. – Heroes!

Every week there are dozens of volunteers who wander in and out of Marrickville West. Some make us coffee to get us started in the morning, some assist in classrooms, some cook, sew or crochet, some take photos, some coach sports teams, attend excursions, help us learn to garden, pull out weeds, take care of the compost, decorate, paint, cover notice boards, create newsletters, plan fundraisers, cook for the canteen, support other parents, help our kids act, write, debate, learn about their religion, talk about ethics, help out in the office… (and that is not even the end of the list) These tireless volunteers who make our school that bit extra special – Heroes!

The mums and dads and grandparents, aunties and uncles… the ones who support our causes, find the lost notes in the bottom of our bags, cook our cupcakes, put the finishing touches on our school projects, buy our books, wash our uniforms, replace yet another lost hat, appreciate our teachers, attend our celebrations and made the time to be here with us today – Heroes!

The teachers who stay up late thinking of new and more interesting ways to help our children learn, neglect their own families to be at school after hours, continue to smile in the face of exhaustion, sacrifice lunches and hot coffees for the sake of a child who needs them, remain professional despite the challenges and care unconditionally without expectation of thanks or reward – Heroes!

Our School Administrative and Support Staff – Mi Stav, Mi Anne, Mr Michael, Ms Angela, Mr George – in the office and everywhere else, these people are the back bone of our school. The wheels that keep us moving forward. The hardest workers, and the quietest achievers. – Heroes!

The students who make mistakes and try, try again to get it right, who find the courage to raise their hand even if they’re not sure they have the right answer, who try new things despite knowing they may not be the best, who can be proud of what they achieve and still enjoy the achievement of others – Heroes!

While as principal I might create the dream … the reality of Marrickville West is built with the imagination, dedication, courage and hard work that comes from all of you.

Thank you all for the effort and generosity of spirit you have shown our school and each other this year."

Starting Big School Program

We had so much fun learning about school!

Arts and Crafts are fun in KS, K/1B and KB.

Stage 1 Visit Taronga Zoo

As part of our Science Unit about animals Stage 1 had an exciting visit to Taronga Zoo. Some of the highlights were the seal show, the robotic dinosaurs, the presentation about native animals in the Bush Theatre, the swimming elephants and the big cats.

KS, KB and 2B perform at the town hall

On Monday, December 1, three classes, KS, KB and 2B, were invited to perform in Marrickville Town Hall at the Christmas Party for elderly citizens who are members of Marrickville Library.

KS and KB performed ‘The Very Hungry Caterpillar’ and ‘Waka Waka’.

2B sang ‘Puff the Magic Dragon’ with Mr Barrett playing guitar. The students were then offered a snack and a drink. The performances were greatly enjoyed by the audience.

STAGE 1

Taronga visit

Year 1 went on an exciting trip to Taronga Zoo. First we went on the bus. Then we saw the Chimpanzees. Next we had lunch and the birds tried to steal our food. After that we went to a show and got to touch a possum and snake. In the afternoon we walked around the zoo visiting all the animals, the Giraffe was my favourite. Then it was on the bus and back to school. I had a great day!

Getting a good education isn't just about what you learn, it's also about where and how you learn. It's about the environment and a feeling of safety. At my school I feel very safe while I'm in the playground and in the buildings.

Feeling safe is one of the most important things about getting a good education. If you don't feel safe then you can't concentrate, which means you won't learn as much and you might find it harder to succeed.

I asked my best friend, her name is Scarlett, a couple of questions about her favourite subject. Scarlett's favourite subject is English because she said it will help improve her creativity and general knowledge.

I also asked Scarlett how she thought it would help her in the future. She said that lots of jobs involve English so she thought it would help her get a job. I totally agree with all of Scarlett's comments.

It is important to try as hard as you can at school so that you can do well and get a good job or go to university. When you get older you need to be able to feed yourself, and your family, you need to live somewhere, and it's easier to do that when you have a good job. Getting a good education helps you get that job.

My mum went to university and now she works at the State Library. She could not have the job she has now if she didn't go to university and get a degree. I feel lucky to live in a family and a country where education is important. Not everyone is that lucky. Some countries don't appreciate education the way Australia does, especially not for girls.

Malala Yousafzai is a 17 year old girl from Pakistan. For the first few years of Malala's life her hometown was a popular tourist destination that was known for its summer festivals. However it began to change, as the Taliban was starting to take over.

Malala went to a school that her dad had founded. The Taliban started to attack girls' schools because they believed that girls didn't deserve or need an education. Because Malala spoke out for girls' rights, including a speech in 2008, called "How dare the Taliban take away my basic right to education", she was shot in the head by the Taliban. She survived and continues to speak out about her rights and the right for all girls to a good education. It was announced earlier this month that Malala won the Nobel Peace Prize. She is the youngest winner.

Malala was strong and brave and she spoke up for what she believed in. She felt that girls in her country needed a safe environment to learn. In her 2010 speech to the United Nations Malala said, "One child, one teacher, one pen and a book can change the world. Education is the only solution Education first."

Like Malala I hope sometime all over the world everyone will be able to get a good, safe education, like me.
From the Teacher’s Chair

LYING: I didn’t think that anything could surprise me. I’d thought I’d seen it all, but then a child came into class limping on a leg that was more blood than flesh.

“What happened to your leg?”

“A bite.”

“What bit you?”

“Shrug.”

“I said what bit you?”

“A crocodile.”

Why do all students think I’m stupid? I can tell a crocodile bite from that of a dog. Please, if you’re going to lie to me about your injuries, make sure that you have more believable stories.

LOSING EQUIPMENT: This is a scenario that takes place in my classroom every day. I’d just sat down at my surprisingly comfortable teacher’s chair with a coffee when;

“Miss!”

“What?”

“I lost my book.”

I stood up and found the child their book, but before I’d even had time to sit down again;

“Miss, I don’t know where my pencil case is.”

STUFF: This is something that infuriates me. I can’t understand a single word that you students saying because what you’re saying is broken up by the word stuff;

“What is a narrative?”

“It’s stuff that you write about stuff that didn’t actually happen, Miss.”

“So why have you written a recount?”

“Because Miss, I’m not very good at writing stuff about stuff that didn’t actually happen so I thought that I’d write stuff about stuff that did happen, but I’d write that stuff in narrative format, Miss.”

PASSWORDS: I constantly have to change your passwords. Why do you insist on losing them so frequently? Change them to something you remember, for crying out loud!

5 FUN RIDDLES

1. What goes up but doesn’t come down?
2. What word has an ‘e’ but only has one letter?
3. I am not alive, but I grow; I don’t have lungs, but I need air; I don’t have a mouth, but water kills me. What am I?
4. What question can you never answer yes to?
5. When things go wrong, what can you always count on?

Answers:

1. Age
2. Envelope
3. Fire
4. Are you asleep yet?
5. Fingers

Multicultural Munch

On Thursday the 27th of November the entire school was obliged to come to school dressed in cultural clothes according to their cultural background. It was a huge success. We had people dressing up as people from Austria, Bangladesh, Hungary, Bali, Indonesia, The Philippines, America, Scotland, Ireland and many, many more places!

In the morning we had story telling circles, there were stories from Hungary, Scotland/Ireland, Spanish, Arabic and many, many more stories. After that we had recess which was shortly followed by a bunch of multiculturial performances which were spectacular. Following the performances we had our Multicultural Feast accompanied by a Sausage Sizzle.

Everybody had a GREAT time.

RANDOM FUNNY STORY

Once there was a soccer team. They were very bad at soccer, when one day, they were tired of losing.

“What should we do?” Said the coach. “I have an idea!” replied one cheeky soccer player. He looked at the goalie, skinny, he looked like a thin jayelin that you could throw.

The soccer player gave Krispy Kreme to the goalie. He repeated this every single week. Soon, the goalie was incredibly voluminous, he had to be rolled to his house by his fellow soccer players.

When children saw him, they used him as a float for swimming. A kid lied on his belly. When children saw him, they used him as a thin javelin that you could throw.

“I’m not very good at writing stuff about stuff that didn’t actually happen so I thought that I’d write stuff about stuff that did happen, but I’d write that stuff in narrative format, Miss.”

The School Disco

On the 26th of November 2014, we had a school disco to help raise money for the Year 6 Farewell. Most students of the school came down to boogie. But not only were there students, but teachers came down too! These teachers included; Mrs Criniti, Mr Burman, Ms Jessica, student teachers and our school principal Mrs Ling!

There were many songs to choose from and everyone had a blast. We would like to thank Mrs Mulligan and the SRC for organising this fun event.

School Uniform
If you are shopping for school during the holidays, please remember that our school uniform is green and blue. Children are asked to wear a blue school hat and plain runners or black leather shoes at school. Students will get a full list of stationery requirements at the start of the year; however if you want to take advantage of the back to school specials, it can be assumed that most classes will require lead (HB) pencils, coloured pencils, eraser, sharpener, ruler (cm), glue stick and a pencil case. Textas, pens and highlighters may be requested for senior grades.

Jack’s Hero Day

Jack Norman is a very special boy who’s been attending our school for three years now. He started in KB in 2012, but halfway through that year was diagnosed with a brain tumour. He missed much of the last half of that year’s schooling while he was undergoing treatments in hospital. He returned to school for 2013 and this year is in K/1B.

Unfortunately over the last 2 years he has fought 3 more recurrences of the brain tumour. Right now he’s started another set of radiation therapies to try to shrink an inoperable tumour behind his eyes.

Having spent the best part of the last two years away from the workplace caring for Jack, his parents have very little paid leave left between them to spend time with him. Craig works for the Police Force and NSW Police Legacy (the Police Charity Organisation) have organised a fund where people can make donations to help support Jack. All donations will go directly to helping the Norman family with the costs of Jack’s treatment, to ensuring that they can pay the rent and put food on the table for their special family while giving Jack the best quality of life he can have. If you’d like to help out, this is a good way to support this special family.

P&C UPDATE

Playground works in Progress!

Two weeks ago the guys from Edible Kids Gardens started on the first stage of our playground behind the canteen. Work has been coming along nicely and should be finished soon with plants, mulching and rope-log bridge finished and climbing ropes ready to be put in. A gate from the canteen side of the playground needs to be installed and a fence installed on the Livingstone Rd side of the playground before it can be used which should happen early next year. By this time the plants should have had a chance to establish and everything settle into place.

We await word next week on whether we will be awarded some more money for playground upgrades through another grant.

Manifest-OH! – Term 4 Movie Might

Thanks to everyone who came along for another great night of animations. Sorry we sold out of hotdogs and choc tops again!!! We promise to bring even more stock so this won’t keep happening! We are proud to say that after expenses (and 20% back into canteen account) we raised $400 to give straight to the Norman Family and their continuing fundraising efforts. Stay tuned for more in 2015, and ‘Like’ us on Facebook too!

Those doing website updating and more

We truly appreciate all the hours you’ve given!
We hope you’ll come back and help out some more next year.
What is an Earthquake?

An earthquake is a natural disaster caused by moving tectonic plates under the earth. Usually it is caused by plates getting jammed into each other and letting go in a sudden force. Earthquakes usually happen near the edges of tectonic plates. An earthquake is described as a violent shake that can destroy nearly everything. There have been incidents where whole cities have been destroyed.
